AUTUMN FESTIVAL.

Plans for the autumn festival are rapidly nearing completion and owing to the generous contributions of the local merchants it will be well stocked with good things. Among the valuable contributions so far received is a magnificent punch bowl and glasses from the Potomac Brewing Company to be voted to the most popular member of Seminoles Tribe. The main attraction for the public to compete for is, of course, the handsome canoe which has arrived and is on view at Mr. R. E. Knight's store on King street. There will also be chances on a picture, merchandise and other articles, and there need be no lack of interest for want of opportunity to hold the winning chance. The opening night will be Red Men's night and a large delegation of Red Men are expected from Washington. Thursday night will be Alexandria Light Infantry night, and a gold medal will be presented to the winner of a competitive drill to be given by them on that occasion and Congressman Carlin has consented to present the medal. Friday night will be firemen's night, and all the local companies have been invited to be present. Saturday night will be given over to novelties. On each of these evenings a prize will be voted on for the most popular visitor, and all the favorites can look to their laurels. Mayor Paff will make the opening address after which the lights will be turned on and the reign of merriment commence.

DEATH OF E. H. MADDUX.

Mr. Eppa Hutton Maddux died at Athens, Ga., at an early hour yesterday morning. His remains were brought to this city and the funeral services were held at Mr. B. Wheatley's undertaking parlors at 11 o'clock this morning. The services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Ware, of Colpeper, and the interment was made in St. Paul's cemetery. The deceased was 41 years old, and in recent years was associated with Mr. M. P. O'Callaghan in the hotel business in Athens. He was a son of the late Martin Maddux, who in by-gone years conducted at times the Marshall House, City Hotel and Bradlock House and who died in 1885. He was born at Fairfax Courthouse. The deceased was one of eight children, among whom was the late Capt. Maddux, so well known throughout the state. But two are now living—Mr. Clifford B. Maddux (born in Alexandria) and Miss Blanche Maddux.

RAN ON PILES.

The Farmer's Friend, a large sailing scow, owned by Mr. William Sisco, ran on the piles opposite the outlet of the old Alexandria canal a day or two ago, and was badly damaged. The scow ran on the piles at high water, when three men were hidden from view, and when the tide fell the boat was left high and dry on the piles with its water within several inches of its bottom. The scow has not been released.

A sailing yacht, owned by Mr. Carey Mills, broke from its moorings in the cove between the old B. & O. transfer slip and the shipyard a few days ago drifted on the wreck of a tugboat. When the tide fell it left the yacht in a semi-capricious position with its hull considerably damaged.

DEATH OF MR. NASH.

Mr. Harry M. Nash died yesterday afternoon at his home on North Patrick street. The deceased had been a sufferer from tuberculosis. Mr. Nash was a machinist by occupation. He was 31 years old. He leaves two small children. Mr. Nash was a son of the late Michael and Aline Nash and was a grandson of the late Captain James Gay. At the time of his death he held a position at the Washington navy yard. His wife died several years ago. Mr. Nash was a member of Alpha Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles. His funeral will take place from St. Mary's Church tomorrow morning.

DEATH OF CAPT. FAULKNER.
Capt. Ferdinand G. Faulkner, an old, well-known and popular citizen, died last night at his home on south Payne street, after a short illness. The deceased was about 57 years old. He was a native of Orange county, and for many years a conductor on the main line of the Washington division of the Southern Railway. Of late years he had been employed on the Washington and Ohio division. Capt. Faulkner leaves a widow, a son and two daughters. He was a member of Andrew Jackson Lodge of Masons, Mt. Vernon Chapter, Royal Arch Masons and of the Order of Railroad Conductors.

OPERA HOUSE.

Another large crowd witnessed the performance at the Opera House last night and the consensus of opinion was that the management made no mistake when they engaged Tomlin, Carl and Tomlin, with their great illusion act, which is the marvel of the age, nor did they go wrong in the selection of Young and Lyle, the character comedians. For both these acts are good. The pictures are the best seen in the city—large and clear and both interesting and instructive. Another good show tonight.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of Miss Minerva Owings Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Griffith, took place from Christ Church this evening and was attended by a large number of her friends by whom she was greatly loved. The services were conducted by Rev. W. J. Morton and the interment was in Ivy Hill. The pallbearers were Messrs. Douglass Stuart, E. S. Leadbeater, Arthur Bryant, E. S. Harper, Bruce Downey and Arthur Herbert.

The remains of Mrs. Mary F. Allison, aged 87 years, who died in Washington on Wednesday, were brought here this evening and interred.

All low shoes at cost price for a few days only at John A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

SCHOOL PERMITS.

The clerk of the City School Board today finished for the week the issuing of permits to children to attend the public schools and during the day issued 245—110 to colored boys and 135 to colored girls. On the corresponding day last year he issued 273 permits—133 to colored boys and 140 to colored girls. During the week 1489 permits have been issued—557 to white boys and 529 to white girls; 178 to colored boys, 226 to colored girls. During the corresponding week last year 1732 were issued—600 to white boys, 566 to white girls, 268 to colored boys and 395 to colored girls. All the schools will be opened for study on Monday next and in order that they may be properly organized no more permits will be issued till Monday the 20th. After that date and for the remainder of the session, permits will be issued every Monday morning at 9 o'clock at Lee school building on Prince street.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

Mr. O. G. Maphis, school examiner for the Third district, and Mr. O. F. Thomas, assistant superintendent of public instruction, were in the city yesterday and visited the various school-houses of the city. They expressed themselves as much pleased with their visit.

Mr. R. A. Wallace has commenced the work of improving the grounds of Lee school building on upper Prince street. Concrete walks and curbing are to be laid at once.

Mr. W. O. Tomlin has been given the contract for painting the interior of Washington building and has commenced the work, which will be pushed to an early completion.

THE FAIR AT ST. ASAPH.

J. F. Roberts, president and general manager of the fair association now at St. Asaph, sends the following:

"I noticed in the column of your paper this morning that it is alleged that the fair at St. Asaph had closed and that J. F. Roberts—the president—left on Tuesday morning and hasn't been seen since, which statements are incorrect. It is true that he went to Washington Tuesday about 11 o'clock to look after some business matters but returned about 3 o'clock."

SENT TO THE WORKHOUSE.

Harry Brown, for many years a patron of the Police Court, was in the dock again this morning on the old charge of drunken and disorderly conduct. He had been taken in custody by Lieutenant Smith, and had exhausted his vocabulary of curse words on the lieutenant. Justice Caton sentenced the offender to sixty days in the workhouse. He told him if he ran away and was caught his term would be extended to one hundred and twenty days.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]
The following cases were disposed of this morning:
Lewis Baltimore, colored, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was dismissed.

Harry Brown, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was sent to the workhouse for sixty days.

A young white man, charged with being drunk on the street, was sent to jail for five days.

AN ACCEPTABLE RAIN.

Rain began to fall about ten o'clock last night and heavy showers followed at intervals until this morning, when there were other copious downpours. The droughts in this neighborhood has been of long duration, and rain has been greatly needed. Crabs, natives of salt water, have recently been seen in Piscataway and Broad creeks, a short distance below this city. They make their way up the river during droughts.

ANOTHER COMPETITOR.

William C. Coleman, colored, has announced himself a candidate for the House of Delegates from this city and county. He will run on the prohibition ticket. Coleman was a candidate for the same position fourteen years ago, and on one occasion gave his views on the "policy" question which at that time was disturbing the community.

YOUNG MAN HAS MENTAL TROUBLES.

A telephone message was received at the station house this morning from Washington stating that E. L. Walker was manifesting symptoms of mental aberration. Walker is a resident of this city, and the police notified his relatives, who live at 517 south Henry street.

RED MEN.

A well attended meeting of Osceola Tribe of Red Men was held last night. The proposition to amend the by-laws of the tribe was defeated. The members will meet at their wigwam on Thursday night, the 16th instant, and will attend in a body the autumn festival to be held by Seminoles Tribe at Armory Hall.

TO BE INVESTIGATED.

The collision between an electric railway train and a light engine of the Southern Railway Company at Cameron and Henry streets Wednesday night is to be investigated by the Police Court. The crew of the electric train, the engineer and firemen of the locomotive and others will be cited to appear.

ROW AMONG NEGROES.

A fight took place last night on King street, near West, among some negroes, during which several shots were fired. It is said that a colored woman had a narrow escape from being seriously wounded or killed by a flying bullet.

COURT OF APPEALS.

The Court of Appeals sitting in Session yesterday rendered a large number of decisions, among them the following:

McKenzie et al. vs. Charlottesville and Albemarle Railway Company et al., affirmed.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. vs. Commonwealth. State Corporation Commission. Reversed.

In the case of B. H. Hawes against the William H. Trigg Shipbuilding Company, involving the ownership of vessels in course of construction by the Trigg company at the time of the appointment of receivers in December, 1902, the court rendered an opinion that such vessels are not the property of the corporations for which they were being built, but are subject to the claims of the supply lien creditors of the building company. Under contract with the government, the Trigg company had in course of construction the Galveston, an auxiliary cruiser; the Mohawk, a revenue cutter, and the Benavard, a seagoing tug; and for the Standard Oil Company the company was constructing a tank steamer known as the Lucas. For the Pennsylvania Railroad the company was building three seagoing tugs. In the litigation following the receivership, the government and the corporations, for which these vessels were being constructed, claimed that the vessels in their incomplete state belonged to them, while the creditors of the Trigg company contended that these vessels and the material assigned to them were still the property of the Trigg company and subject to their claims.

Co. is on a siding at the freight yards waiting to be unloaded. 'T'll be a little late in starting, but as Mr. Elston says: "Better late than never," 'cause when we once get we'll be in a waltz with 'em, and a jingling at that.
